

Developing e-Learning in the Health Sector

Discover how to maximise e-learning initiatives for clinical services and healthcare organisations in the capable hands of top health e-learning expert Laurence Wilson and other NHS and private sector professionals

Royal Society of Medicine, London, Thursday 3rd April 2008

SPECIAL FOCUS ON RAPID DESIGN, DEVELOPMENT and DELIVERY - EXPRESS YOUR INTEREST IN THIS FREE EVENT TODAY!

Course-Source's events deliver unique insight into how the health sector can make the most out of e-learning. Featuring speakers from within the industry and success stories taken from across the NHS and private sector, these are learning and networking opportunities not to be missed. Highlights of this event include: -

- Trent area hospitals case study: How a pioneering e-learning programme for intra-operative cell salvage won a coveted National Training Award and has since been adopted nationally by the UK Blood and Tissue Transplantation Services
- Using Mind-Mapping to speed up the design process
- How NHS Scotland and Cigna Healthcare are using Atlanic Link to rapidly develop e-learning
- Using healthElearning.net to deliver e-learning
